Thank you for your response. Please let me know when the content is made available again. The reason I am asking is because I am responsible for a project to reproduce and combine all the Proactive Disclosure contracts on www.disclosed.ca

I would appreciate if you could provide a link to www.disclosed.ca from your Proactive Disclosure page. If this is not possible, please direct me to someone who I can talk to about this.

Background info on www.disclosed.ca --

With the goal of improving public access to information, Disclosed brings all the government procurement contracts under one roof.

Powered by the same technology as Google itself, Disclosed makes searching quick and easy.

And just like Google, Disclosed is and will always be completely free to access.

Regards,
